TWELFTH ANNUAL MAZIN ART EXHIBITION

The Mazin Annual Art Exhibition was conceived and created by Bernice and Benjamin Mazin in partnership with Jewish Community Center's Visual Arts Committee. The event is funded by the Mazin Visual Arts Fund, Judy and Dennis Hummel and the Mazin family. It is a regional, juried art exhibition of 2-D and 3-D artwork, open to artists 18 years of age and older. Each year, the Mazin Art Exhibition fosters an appreciation of today's visual arts and reflects the breadth and artistic vision of local artists.

ELIGIBILITY

- Entries must be original works of art completed after January 1, 2014.
- Artists must be 18 years of age or older and reside within 200 miles of Louisville, KY.
- Artwork must not exceed three feet in any dimension and 50 pounds in weight.
- Reproductions, artwork created for class and jewelry are not eligible.

APPLICATION

- Each artist may submit up to three (3) works. A digital file of each must be included with entry.
- Artwork should not be photographed through glass.
- Do not include artist's name on the work.
- Each digital file must include the artist's name and title of work.
- Complete the attached entry form. Artist's name, title of piece, medium, year completed and dimensions/weight must be included. Additional forms may be picked up at The J or online at www.jccoflouisville.org. Entry forms must be postmarked on or before Friday, October 28, 2016.
- A $25 entry fee for one piece and $5 for each additional piece must accompany the entry form and digital file(s). Make check payable to Jewish Community Center (The J). Payments are non-refundable.

JUROR

Joey Yates, Curator for KMAC Museum, a museum in downtown Louisville that examines the relationship between contemporary art, folk art and traditional craft practices. He joined KMAC in May, 2012 beginning with a solo show from acclaimed sculptor and furniture designer Wendell Castle. Yates recently curated Simone Leigh's solo exhibition Crop Rotation and was co-curator for White Glove Test: Louisville Punk Flyers 1978-1994.

In 2013 he organized The 7 Borders, an exhibition that explored Kentucky's regional identity by showcasing artistic connections between the Commonwealth of Kentucky and its seven border states. He has helped create an expanded program for the KMAC Museum that activates local, regional, national and international artists in an ongoing dialogue about contemporary artistic production and material culture as demonstrated in Material Issue, the museum's inaugural exhibition for the newly renovated space co-curated with Aldy Milliken, the KMAC Executive Director.

Yates is graduate of the Critical and Curatorial Studies program at the University of Louisville. He is also a musician active in the local music scene for over 20 years.
